Since then, he has graduated from the University of South Carolina Upstate with a History degree.

Lee Antoine Smith also called "Smitha" lives by the quote, "College is a place for networking, your degree doesn't always matter, but the people who you connect with will determine your future".

Arielle V. Kennedy is the owner of AVK Dance Studio here in Spartanburg, SC. She was trained at Ballet Spartanburg before moving to New York City where she trained as a fellowship (scholarship) student at The Ailey School. Since the completion of her studies, she has taken the advantage to indulge in her technical diversity by performing as a featured dancer with Columbia Classical Ballet, Foot Prints Dance Company, and Surati Indian Dance Company. Most recently, she was fortunate to perform both internationally—traveling through east and west Europe, Canada, and the Caribbean with Emmy Award winning RWS & Associates/ Holland America and locally in the feature film, Bolden. In addition to fulfilling her passion as a performer, she has taken the opportunity to satisfy her love for teaching. Arielle has been privileged to share her experiences, knowledge, and fortitude with aspiring dancers throughout North America, including the students at Harlem School of the Arts in New York City, Cirque Du Soleil in Canada and currently with the students at Carver Middle School and Ballet Spartanburg in South Carolina.
